A great adventure!

The children in Richard's class were finding out about different jobs on Friday when Richard found a website about taking care of special fish. It was really interesting. Richard has always wanted to work with animals. He'd like to be an animal doctor or work in a zoo.

When he got home, he told his mother about his dream jobs and the website. "Well," she said. "That's strange! Tomorrow we're going to visit Ocean Park. It's a place where you can swim with dolphins and see some other fish."

Richard couldn't sleep that night. When they arrived at Ocean Park in the morning, Richard visited the dolphins first. Then he watched a man who swam with the smaller fish. Later he saw some birds with very big wings. Before they went home, the family spent some time in the store. Richard's mother bought him a coloring book of sea animals.

"Did you have a good time at Ocean Park?" his aunt asked when she called him later. "No," said Richard. "It wasn't good there ... it was excellent! We didn't have enough time to see everything, so in the school holidays, we're going to go back there!"
