

Teacher's notes

Reinforcement worksheet 1 F toward

- Remind the students about the ezine competition in the Student's Book. Students then read the online chat in which Sue, another girl at City School, asks Alex about the competition. They complete it with Alex's answers. Finally, students listen to the conversation (Track 2), and check their answers.

Key: 2 Students between the ages of 7 and 12. 3 The best ezine wins new computers for your school. 4 You can win ten! 5 You have to write an interesting article and add some photographs. 6 You have to write more than one article, Sue! 7 You have to write one every month! 8 Oh, Sue! Don't be lazy!

- Optional follow-up activity: In pairs, students change the answers for 2–8, creating a new competition of their own. Their competition will have different prizes and different instructions, etc. They then join another pair and ask and answer questions in groups.

Reinforcement worksheet 2

- Use the "T1 = Q" next to the keyboard to make sure that students understand the code and work through the example microphone with the class. Students then figure out the other four technology words.

Key: 2 speakers, 3 laptop, 4 headphones, 5 keyboard.

- When they have finished, they label the silhouettes.

Key: 2 laptop, 3 keyboard, 4 speakers, 5 microphone.

- Students then write words in code for the definitions.

Key: 1 M4 – M9 – M1 – M2 – M6 – M3 – T4 – T8 – B4 – T3 (flash drive),
2 B3 – M6 – M1 – T5 (chat),
3 T2 – T3 – B5 – B3 – M1 – B7 (webcam).

- Optional follow-up activity: In pairs, students create a code of their own (or use the existing keyboard code) to write five more words for another pair to solve. Pairs win one point for each word correctly decoded.

Extension worksheet 1

- Students read the three conversations and put the text messages in order. Finally, they write their own text message conversation with a friend in the last box.

Key: a 1, 5, 2, 4, 3, 6; b 1, 4, 3, 5, 2, 6; c 1, 6, 3, 2, 5, 4.

- Optional follow-up activity: Students re-write their conversation so that it is not in order. They give it to a partner, who puts it in the correct order.

Extension worksheet 2 F toward

- Photocopy one sheet for every two students. Cut the sheets in half and give them out to each pair. Students first color and write things in their pictures, following the instructions on the right. Work with a student in front of the class to model how to describe and ask about each other's pictures, e.g., Student A: In my picture, there is a flash drive close to the keyboard. Please color it blue. Student B: Is it on the left?

- If necessary, write these expressions on the board:
Where is/are ...? How many ...? What color is/are ...? How do you spell ...? What else is in your picture?
- Ask students to sit across from each other. Student A then describes his/her new picture to Student B. Student B listens, asks for details, and adds Student A's details to his/her own picture. Finally, they swap roles.
- Optional follow-up activity: In pairs, students make simple sentences about the picture, and their partners say whether it is true or false, e.g., In my picture, there are two speakers.

Song worksheet

- Explain that compound nouns are nouns made up of two words, e.g., cell phone, classroom, blackboard, and remote control. Students match the words to find eight examples. They then circle seven of the compound nouns in the song.

Key: school bags, flash drives, laptops, keyboard, whiteboard, headphones, computer games, text message.

- Students then look at the compound nouns in the song to see if they are written as one word or two. They write the words in the two computer screens accordingly.

Key: One word: whiteboard, laptops, headphones, keyboard.
Two words: school bags, flash drives, computer games.

- Finally they listen and sing the song (Track 3).
- Optional follow-up activity: Students interview each other in pairs using Do you have ...? or Is there a ...? and one of the objects, e.g., John, do you have a schoolbag? Katy, is there a whiteboard in the classroom?

Topic worksheet

- Students read the article about safety on the Internet. They then read the sentences and decide whether each one is good advice or bad advice.

Key: 1 ✓, 2 ✗, 3 ✓, 4 ✓, 5 ✗.

- Optional follow-up activity: Students write an advice sheet for computer users with useful tips. Encourage experienced computer users to write about things the others may not know, e.g., types of virus, anti-virus software, how to "block" junk mail, Trojan Horses, etc. Students could write about more basic computer tips rather than Internet advice, e.g., saving your work regularly, using spellcheck to correct your work, etc. If someone doesn't use a computer, they could sit with someone who does. Display their advice sheets on the classroom wall.

Reinforcement worksheet 1

1 Complete the online chat.

You have to write more than one article, Sue!
~~It's like a magazine article. It's for the Internet.~~

Oh, Sue! Don't be lazy!
You can win ten!

You have to write one every month!

Students between the ages of 7 and 12.

The best ezine wins new computers for your school!

You have to write an interesting article and add some photographs.

Alex: Have you heard about the new ezine Internet competition?

Sue: No. What's an ezine?

Alex: (1) ~~It's like a magazine article. It's for the Internet.~~

Sue: Who can enter the competition?

Alex: (2)

Sue: Cool! What's the prize?

Alex: (3)

Sue: Wow! How many can we win?

Alex: (4)

Sue: Great! What do we have to do?

Alex: (5)

Sue: An article with photographs? Hey, I'm going to do it! It's really easy!

Alex: (6)

Sue: Oh. How often do we have to write them?

Alex: (7)

Sue: Every month? I'm not going to do that!

Alex: (8)

Extension worksheet 2

- ★ Student A – Color and write. Don't show Student B.
Describe your picture for Student B to color and write.

- 1 Color the flash drive blue.
- 2 Color the two speakers purple.
- 3 Color the headphones yellow.
- 4 Think of a school subject. Write it under the word Homework.
- 5 Think of a day of the week. Write it on the calendar.

- ★ Student B – Color and write. Don't show Student A.
Describe your picture for Student A to color and write.

- 1 Color the cell phone close to the books green.
- 2 Color the flowers on Mary's computer screen red.
- 3 Color the webcam gray.
- 4 Think of a day of the week. Write it on the calendar.
- 5 Think of a school subject. Write it under the word Homework.

Song worksheet

- 1 Match the words in A and B to make compound nouns.
Circle seven words in the song.

A school flash lap key white head computer text

B board tops games bags drives message phones board

- 2 Which compound words do we write as one word
and which as two words?

We have flash drives in our school bags,
An electronic whiteboard on the wall.
We have laptops, headphones, and MP3s.
Hear the future call!

Now we text on cell phones,
We use high technology.
We communicate by Internet
And watch movies on DVD.

We take pictures with our phones,
We watch videos on the screen.
We use programs for a dictionary
To find out what words mean.

Some just play computer games
Or just watch the TV.
They don't use their imagination
Or think or speak or listen.

We don't need pens or paper –
The keyboard does it all!
There are robots in our factories.
Hear the future call!

Now sing the song!

Topic worksheet

Read about safety on the Internet. Are the sentences 1–5 below good (✓) or bad (X) advice?

Computers are smart but humans are smart, too! Some humans are very bad people. We call them criminals. They know how to steal your money – and even your name – from the computer.

Junk mail

People often try to find your email address because they want to sell you something. These emails are called junk mail. When you open junk mail, the senders know that your email address is correct. Then they send you more emails. Sometimes they sell your address to criminals, so don't open emails if you are not sure who sent them to you. It's important not to reply to emails like this.

Viruses

Viruses are like an illness – they make your computer sick! Sometimes criminals send you viruses inside junk mail. Be careful if you can see something with the email. Don't click on it! If a very bad virus gets inside your computer, it stops working. Some bad websites can give you viruses as well. If possible, buy an anti-virus program and use it every week. It can find viruses and kill them.

Chat rooms

Chat rooms are great fun. You can play games with other people. You can show people your photographs and make new friends, but watch out! Criminals can see what you write. Never tell people these three things: your home phone number, your email address, and your home address. If you want, use a false name. Also, when you join a chat room, tell your parents. Sometimes you don't know who you are talking to, so don't meet people from your chat room if you don't know them. If you plan to meet a new friend, ALWAYS ask your parents, and NEVER go alone.

Enjoy using the computer, but don't take risks!

- 1 Don't use your real name in a chat room.
- 2 Reply to junk mail.
- 3 Ask your parents when you want to meet a new friend.
- 4 Buy an anti-virus program.
- 5 Click on something in a junk mail message.
